

Janice Paine

As Program Manager for Educational Services, Janice Paine manages the United Arts Council's after-school program and serves as a resource for education-related services.

She holds a bachelor's degree from Reed College in Portland, Oregon, and a master's degree in art history from the University of Delaware. Janice is also an active free-lance writer on the visual arts.